Subregionalism And World Order:

Subregionalism and World Order NA NA,1999-12-18 A diverse range of area specialists are brought together here in the first volume which embraces such a geographically diverse treatment of the subregional system The Central European Free Trade Area the Black Sea Economic Cooperation scheme ECOWAS in West Africa MERCOSUR the Association of Caribbean States Chilean strategies the Greater China project ASEAN and the East Asian Economic Caucus are all explored in order to mount a case for a new International Political Economy perspective in the understanding of subregional cooperation

Subregionalism and World Order Glenn D. Hook,Ian Kearns,1999-08-31 Subregionalism and World Order brings together the work of a diverse range of area specialists in its treatment of sub regional cooperation schemes Sub regional projects covered include the Central European Free Trade Area the Black Sea Economic Scheme Ecowas in West Africa Mercosur The Association of Caribbean States Chilean strategies of subregional cooperation the Greater China project Asean and the East Asian Economic Caucus This is the first volume of its kind to embrace such a geographically diverse treatment of the subregional system Through comparison of the various schemes it also seeks to mount a case for a new IPE perspective in the understanding of subregional cooperation

Sub-regionalism and International River Basins Soavapa Ngampraman,Christian Ploberger,2020-06-17 This book investigates the origins and dynamics of sub regional phenomena based on international river basins namely the Mekong and Danube rivers It emphasizes the integration process of the Greater Mekong Sub region and the European Strategy for the Danube Region which are located in two different geopolitical and structural settings one in Southeast Asia in the regional context of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN and the other in Central and Eastern Europe within the regional context of the EU By comparing two unique case studies within different structural settings additional and valuable insights into the occurrence and formation of sub regional integration processes are provided enabling an evaluation of similarities and differences Understanding sub regional integration dynamics requires not only looking upward to the regional and even the global level but indeed looking downwards to the local level After all sub regional integration processes are generally described as bottom up processes based on local interests and expectations Despite the growing number of sub regional projects sub regionalism remains inadequately studied in the field of political science and as such this book offers unique contributions to the understanding of sub regional integration processes Consequently it will be of interest to readers who are interested in regional and sub regional integration processes as well as those with a specific interest in both the EU and ASEAN geographic regions

Microregionalism and World Order Shaun Breslin,Glenn D. Hook,2002 Raimo Väyrynen: A Pioneer in International Relations, Scholarship and Policy-Making Raimo Väyrynen,2023-01-03 This book provides a broad overview of Professor Raimo Väyrynen's academic work his role in international research organizations and his contributions to policy debates It offers an interesting review of important political issues during the time span of half a century from disarmament in Europe to the changing relationship between state sovereignty and transnational forces V yrynen has dealt with the changing agenda of peace and international relations security and the arms race and the world economy This book provides comprehensive analyses of the regional and systemic structure of international relations with the emphasis on conflicts and warfare between nations It argues that while states even smaller ones still matter transnational issues are increasingly important Taking a historical perspective the articles suggest that large scale violence and arms races have been recurrent and cyclical phenomena in international relations These events reflect the deep seated inequalities in the political and economic systems which moreover vary considerably between regions The publication is important reading for any researcher as well as students policy makers and the science oriented public at large Traces the changing agenda of international relations from disarmament and the world economy to the changing relationship between state sovereignty and transnational forces Provides analyses of the regional and systemic structure in international relations with the emphasis on conflicts and warfare Argues that large scale violence and the arms race have been recurrent and cyclical phenomena in international relations Reviews important political issues from peace and conflict in Europe to the changing power relationship in the world

The New International Relations of Sub-Regionalism Hidetoshi Taga, Seiichi Igarashi, 2018-09-20 In the context of the end of the Cold War and the spread of globalism sub regions are attracting attention as new social units of international society never before observed In the second wave of regionalism that became active in the 1980s a new regionalism which differed qualitatively from the old regionalism expanded globally This new regionalism is characterized by multi dimensionality complexity fluidity and non conformity and within it we cannot overlook the fact that spaces on a new scale such as sub regions are being formed in various parts of the world The sovereign state system that has continued unbroken since the Westphalia Treaty is being transformed and within this context the increase in the number of sub regions as new social units adds to the sense that we have arrived at a post Westphalian international order This book focuses on sub region as a new social unit of international society It is based on the findings obtained through meticulous fieldwork and joint studies conducted over the past 10 years by about 20 researchers primarily from Japanese universities and Chiang Mai University Thailand The sub regions described here are mostly international cross border spaces or units in the interior of a certain region which include multiple states states and parts of states or more than two parts of states often referred to as micro regions Such sub regions have been formed in various parts of the world since the end of the Cold War However studies on sub regions remain unexplored in the existing studies of regionalism The few studies that do exist mainly focus on the economic aspects of sub regions In contrast this book will specifically examine the sub regions in Asia especially the Mekong region and Europe as main cases from a political science and international relations perspective aiming to establish a new alternative international relations by carving out a political angle of sub region as a new social unit of international society and attempting to shift the paradigm of conventional international relations To understand the political dimension of a sub region this book will mainly focus on three aspects sub regions and state strategies bottom up dimension of sub regions and sub regions and borders International Affairs ,2003 Ten Years of Mercosur Pitou van Dijck, Marianne Wiesebron, 2002 Transborder Issues in the Greater Mekong Sub-region ,2008
