Pisces Moon Douglas Valentine, 2023-05-15 Pisces Moon The Dark Arts of Empire is a non fiction book about what writer William Burroughs called the backlash and bad karma of empire Set against the author's month long trip to London Vietnam and Thailand in early 1991 it tells how the American empire was created by rapacious businessmen backed by a murderous military establishment media moguls who designed a relentless psychological warfare campaign that glorifies warriors who are programmed to kill on command and clerics who contrived a religious justification for imperialism the subordination of women and the establishment of chattel slavery Pisces Moon shows how these mythmakers led by CIA drug traffickers after World War Two destroyed much of Southeast Asia It also tells how the myth of American greatest has come home to roost and is now manifest as the vainglorious militant Christian nationalist movement that wishes to establish a right wing dictatorship Pisces Moon argues that the survival of American democracy and the world depends upon people being able to distinguish between material evidence and substantiated facts on the one hand and conspiracy theories religious beliefs and supremacist myths

The Publishers' Trade List Annual, 1986. Narrative, Identity, and the City Raul P. Lejano, Alicia P. Lejano, Josefina D. Constantino, Aaron J.P. Almadro, Mikaela Evaristo, 2018-02-16. Raul P. Lejano offers a boldly original synthesis of narratology, psychology and human geography. This helps him articulate his two main insights: that our identity as individuals, though not completely determined by sociocultural factors, nevertheless profoundly reflects our embeddedness in particular places; and that the way we think of or would like to think of our own identity is most readily captured in the stories we tell about ourselves. Most revealing of all, he suggests, are our stories about coming to grips with an entire city, especially when our experience of it is actually one of dislocation or relocation when we, in some sense or other, lose a city to which we have hitherto belonged or when we find a new one. By way of illustration, the book includes four specially commissioned autobiographical stories by writers of Filipino origin which Lejano's analytical chapters compare and contrast with each other within his interdisciplinary frame of reference. At once learnedly sophisticated and readably empathetic, his commentaries are underpinned by a basically phenomenological orientation which leads him to view human individuals as essentially relational beings, naturally inclined to enter into dialogue with both their fellow creatures and the larger environment.
