Unsettling Relations:

Unsettling Relations Himani Bannerji, 1992 In a provocative collection of essays the authors examine the disjuncture between academic feminism and feminism in the academy An eminently readable hard hitting and much needed critique of the curricular pedagogical and scholarly practices that legitimate the unequal social relations in the academy Chandra Talpade Mohanty

Unsettled Patricia Fumerton, 2006-05 Migrants made up a growing class of workers in late sixteenth and seventeenth century England In fact by 1650 half of England's rural population consisted of homeless and itinerant laborers Unsettled is an ambitious attempt to reconstruct the everyday lives of these dispossessed people Patricia Fumerton offers an expansive portrait of unsettledness in early modern England that includes the homeless and housed alike Fumerton begins by building on recent studies of vagrancy poverty and servants placing all in the light of a new domestic economy of mobility She then looks at representations of the vagrant in a variety of pamphlets and literature of the period Since seamen were a particularly large and prominent class of mobile wage laborers in the seventeenth century Fumerton turns to seamen generally and to an individual poor seaman as a case study of the unsettled subject Edward Barlow b 1642 provides a rare opportunity to see how the laboring poor fashioned themselves for he authored a journal of over 225 000 words and 147 pages of drawings Barlow's journal studied extensively here for the first time vividly charts what he himself termed his unsettled mind and the perpetual anxieties of England's working and wayfaring poor Ultimately Fumerton explores representations of seamen as unsettled in the broadside ballads of Barlow's time

Silva, Nicholas Thoburn, Kath Woodward, 2014-07-16 There is broad acceptance across the Humanities and Social Sciences that our deliberations on the social need to take place through attention to practice to object mediated relations to non human agency and to the affective dimensions of human sociality This Companion focuses on the objects and materials found at centre stage and asks what matters about objects Objects and Materials explores the field providing succinct summary accounts of contemporary scholarship along with a wealth of new research investigating the capacity of objects to shape unsettle and exceed expectations Original chapters from over forty international interdisciplinary contributors address an array of objects and materials to ask what the terms of collaborations with objects and materials are and to consider how these collaborations become integral to our understandings of the complex relational dynamics that fashion social worlds Objects and Materials will be of interest to students and scholars across the social sciences and humanities including in sociology social theory science and technology studies history anthropology archaeology gender studies women's studies geography cultural studies politics and international relations and philosophy

Advertising Myths Anne Cronin, 2012-11-12 Advertising is often portrayed negatively as corrupting a mythically pure relationship between people and things In Advertising Myths Anne Cronin argues that it is better understood as a matrix of transformation that performs divisions in the social order and arranges classificatory regimes Focusing on consumption controversies Cronin contends that advertising is constituted of circuits of belief that flow between practitioners clients regulators consumers and academics Controversies such as those over tobacco and alcohol advertising she argues distil these beliefs and articulate with programmes of social engineering aimed at altering consumption patterns This book will be essential reading for students and academics of advertising and consumption

Racism in the Canadian University Frances Henry, Carol Tator, 2009-05-26 The mission statements and recruitment campaigns for modern Canadian universities promote diverse and enlightened communities Racism in the Canadian University questions this idea by examining the ways in which the institutional culture of the academy privileges Whiteness and Anglo Eurocentric ways of knowing Often denied and dismissed in practice as well as policy the various forms of racism still persist in the academy This collection informed by critical theory personal experience and empirical research scrutinizes both historical and contemporary manifestations of racism in Canadian academic institutions finding in these communities a deep rift between how racism is imagined and how it is lived With equal emphasis on scholarship and personal perspectives Racism in the Canadian University is an important look at how racial minority faculty and students continue to engage in a daily struggle for safe inclusive spaces in classrooms and among peers colleagues and administrators

Handbook of Action Research Peter Reason, Hilary Bradbury, 2001-02-06 A remarkable reframing of action research that engages the spirit as well as the mind in inquiry that matters shared among inquirers who matter Validity as we once knew it will never be the same after these improvements Wonderfully provocative Karl Weick University of Michigan This is truly a significant work Not only has action research reached maturity but in the context of the postmodern constructionist debates its scope has been dramatically expanded its conceptual underpinnings deepened and its forms of practice enormously
