Terminal Identity The Virtual Subject In Postmodern Science Fiction:

Terminal Identity Scott Bukatman, 1993 Scott Bukatman's Terminal Identity referring to both the site of the termination of the conventional subject and the birth of a new subjectivity constructed at the computer terminal or television screen puts to rest any lingering doubts of the significance of science fiction in contemporary cultural studies Demonstrating a comprehensive knowledge both of the history of science fiction narrative from its earliest origins and of cultural theory and philosophy Bukatman redefines the nature of human identity in the Information Age Drawing on a wide range of contemporary theories of the postmodern including Fredric Jameson Donna Haraway and Jean Baudrillard Bukatman begins with the proposition that Western culture is suffering a crisis brought on by advanced electronic technologies Then in a series of chapters richly supported by analyses of literary texts visual arts film video television comics computer games and graphics Bukatman takes the reader on an odyssey that traces the postmodern subject from its current crisis through its close encounters with technology and finally to new self recognition This new virtual subject as Bukatman defines it situates the human and the technological as coexistent codependent and mutually defining Synthesizing the most provocative theories of postmodern culture with a truly encyclopedic treatment of the relevant media this volume sets a new standard in the study of science fiction a category that itself may be redefined in light of this work Bukatman not only offers the most detailed map to date of the intellectual terrain of postmodern technology studies he arrives at new frontiers providing a propitious launching point for further inquiries into the relationship of electronic technology and culture

Terminal Identity Scott Richard Bukatman, 1991

Disability Identity in Simulation Narratives Anelise Haukaas, 2023-12-14 Disability Identity in Simulation Narratives considers the relationship between disability identity and simulation activities ranging from traditional gameplay to more revolutionary technology in contemporary science fiction Anelise Haukaas applies posthumanist theory to an examination of disability identity in a variety of science fiction texts adult novels young adult literature and comics as well as ethnographic research with gamers Haukaas argues that instead of being a means of escapism simulated experiences are a valuable tool for cultivating self acceptance and promoting empathy Through increasingly accessible technology and innovative gameplay traditional hierarchies are dismantled and different ways of being are both explored and validated Ultimately the book aims to expand our understandings of disability performance and self creation in significant ways by exploring the boundless selves that the simulated environments in these texts allow Architecture and Science-Fiction Film David T. Fortin, 2016-12-05 The home is one of our most enduring human paradoxes and is brought to light tellingly in science fiction SF writing and film However while similarities and crossovers between architecture and SF have proliferated throughout the past century the home is often overshadowed by the spectacle of otherness The study of the familiar home within the alien SF creates a unique cultural lens through which to reflect on our current architectural condition SF has always been linked with alienation however the conditions of such alienation and hence notions of home have evidently changed There is often a perceived comprehension of the familiar that atrophies the inquisitive and interpretive processes commonly activated when confronting the unfamiliar Thus by utilizing the estranging qualities of SF to look at a concept inherently linked to its perceived opposite the home a unique critical analysis with particular relevance for contemporary architecture is made possible

William Gibson Tom Henthorne, 2011-07-29 William Gibson author of the cyberpunk classic Neuromancer 1984 is one today's most widely read science fiction writers This companion is meant both for general readers and for scholars interested in Gibson's oeuvre In addition to providing a literary and cultural context for works ranging from Gibson's first short story Fragments of a Hologram Rose 1977 to his recent bestselling novel Zero History 2010 the companion offers commentary on Gibson's subjects themes and approaches It also surveys existing scholarship on Gibson's work in an accessible way and provides an extensive bibliography to facilitate further study of William Gibson's writing influence and place in the history of science fiction and in literature as a whole

Matters of Gravity Scott Bukatman, 2003-07-21 The headlong rush the rapid montage the soaring superhero the plunging roller coaster Matters of Gravity focuses on the experience of technological spectacle in American popular culture over the past century In these essays leading media and cultural theorist Scott Bukatman reveals how popular culture tames the threats posed by technology and urban modernity by immersing people in delirious kinetic environments like those traversed by Plastic Man Superman and the careening astronauts of 2001 A Space Odyssey and The Right Stuff He argues that as advanced technologies have proliferated popular culture has turned the attendant fear of instability into the thrill of topsy-turvydom often by presenting images and experiences of weightless escape from controlled space Considering theme parks cyberspace cinematic special effects superhero comics and musical films Matters of Gravity highlights phenomena that make technology spectacular permit unfettered flights of fantasy and free us momentarily from the weight of gravity and history of past and present Bukatman delves into the dynamic ways pop culture imagines that apotheosis of modernity the urban metropolis He points to two genres musical films and superhero comics that turn the city into a unique site of transformative power Leaping in single bounds from lively descriptions to sharp theoretical insights Matters of Gravity is a deft exhilarating celebration of the liberatory effects of popular culture

Radical Philosophy, 1996 Through the Screen Wildly Joanne Benford, 2008 As with the relationship between any two cultural areas the flow of ideas between science and science fiction is two-way An exchange of knowledge and perspectives exists fed by the concerns of society at large This book explores the dialogues that take place between science fiction and the postmodern world and what effects these have had on identity I take the science fiction novel to be the paradigmatic form of postmodernism Instead of presenting a truth with possible explanations between which it may be impossible to choose the science fiction novel presents possible worlds The stuff of fiction the human condition is framed by unusual worlds which in turn create surprising dilemmas with which the characters must cope It is this question of possible worlds exploring how they relate to temporality in postmodern fiction linking to ideas of hyperspace and finally to my discussion of the postmodern city and the notion of the wildzone Performing the Interface Jeffrey Lee Nyhoff,2008 Proteus George Ferzoco,2020-07-09 Since Ovid the concept of metamorphosis has been an irresistible temptation for writers not only as a metaphor for shifting personal identity but as a way of exploring ideas of cultural and political transition The essays in this volume show how authors from Ovid Chaucer and Shakespeare to Thomas Mann Karen Blixen and 20th century science fiction writers have used this pervasive concept to raise fundamental questions about the nature and agency of radical change Among the broad topics addressed are how shifts in scientific understanding intersect with and even effect transformations in literary expression the differing values attached to the language of metamorphosis over time and the connection between these values and structures of power particularly gender relations In addition to the editors the contributors are Darko Suvin Alessandro Perutelli Elsa Linguanti Douglas Burnham Enrico Giaccherini Lia Pacinotti Michael St John Rocco Coronato Silvia Bruti Elisabetta Cori Judith Rorai Milanese Catherine Burgass Luca Biagiotti Stefania Magnoni Daniel Weavis Julian North Ashley Chantler Martin Halliwell Patrick Quinn Roberta Ferrari Silvia Bigliuzzi and Nicoletta Caputo Iowa Journal of Cultural Studies ,2002 The American Humanities Index Stephen H. Goode,1998 Trauma, Postmodernism and the Aftermath of World War II Paul Crosthwaite,2009-01-29 The radical postmodernist waves of experimentation that swept Anglo American fiction from the late 1960s constitute a delayed response to the upheavals of the Second World War yet the legacy of the war barely figures in prevalent accounts of the postmodernist movement As Paul Crosthwaite shows in this provocative book to recognize the significance of the war in contemporary culture is to acknowledge that postmodernism as a sensibility aesthetic style and mode of thought must be entirely reconceived Challenging dominant theorizations of the postmodern as depthless and dehistoricized Crosthwaite demonstrates that postmodernism has not abandoned history but has rather reformulated it in terms of trauma trauma that is traceable time and again to the catastrophes of the 1940s The book stages a revealing confrontation between influential theories of trauma and postmodernism and offers innovative close readings of key texts by Virginia Woolf Thomas Pynchon Michael Moorcock J G Ballard Richard Powers and Ian McEwan The Virtual City Larissa Jane Hinde,2001 The Human Machine Despina Kakoudaki,2000 HOW TO ACQUIRE BOOKS LISTED IN CURRENT CONTENTS ,1996 Magill's Guide to Science Fiction and Fantasy Literature: Software and wetware ,1996 These four volumes cover 791 books or series 238 of them published during the 1980s and 1990s the entries are 1 000 words long for single books and 1 500 for series with a one sentence summary beginning each entry followed by bibliographical information Volume 4 contains an extensive bibliography of critical works on science fiction and fantasy a list of major award winners a genre index Booklist The Publishers Weekly ,1993 Quarterly of Film, Radio and Television ,1997 Foundation ,2003
