Feral Future Tim Low,2002-12 A decade ago Tim Low journeyed to the remote northernmost tip of Australia Instead of the pristine rain forests he expected he found jungles infested with Latin American carpet grass and feral cattle That incident helped inspire Feral Future a passionate account of the history and implications of invasive species in that island nation with consequences for ecological communities around the globe Australia is far from alone in facing horrific ecological and economic damage from invading plants and animals and in Low s capable hands Australia s experiences serve as a wake up call for all of us He covers how invasive species like cane toads and pond apple got to Australia often through misguided but intentional introductions and what we can do to stop them He also covers the many pests that Australia has exported to the world including the paperbark tree Melaleuca that infests hundreds of thousands of acres in south Florida

The Case of the April Fool's Frogs Nancy Star,2006 In Search of Lost Frogs Robin Moore,2014-09-11 The story of an expedition in search of the world s rarest and most exotic amphibians On August 9 2010 33 teams from 21 countries were dispatched to search for the Lost Frogs identified by Conservation International On their list were a host of species including in the top ten most wanted the Rio Pescado Stubfoot Toad found only in Ecuador which was to prove a triumphant rediscovery Several months a number of key rediscoveries such as the Elegant Tropical Frog last seen in 1937 and the Chalazodes Bubble nest Frog last seen in 1874 and two new species later the Search for Lost Frogs had generated more than 650 news articles in 20 countries and over a billion potential viewers Author Robin Moore was responsible for spearheading the Search for Lost Frogs and coordinating the teams He also co led two expeditions to Colombia and Haiti In Colombia in search of the Mesopotamia Beaked Toad the steamy jungles of the Choco yielded not the desired species but a brand new one the Mr Burns Toad so called because of an uncanny resemblance to the Simpsons character the species was selected as one of Time magazine s top ten new species of 2010 In Haiti the team found six frogs last seen 20 years before including the Ventriloqual Frog named for its ability to throw its voice This fascinating new book tells the story of the expedition its highs and low discoveries and failures and the campaign's ongoing work. Despite the campaign, one third of the world's amphibians remain threatened with extinction. Most of the species searched for were not found. But those that were provide a glimmer of hope. Understanding why these species have survived when many others have not should help us understand what makes these species different. In Search of Lost Frogs is a story of perseverance, disappointment, rediscovery, resilience, but ultimately of hope, written with passion and illustrated with the author's superb photographs.

Relating Events in Narrative, Volume 2 Ludo Verhoeven, Sven Stromqvist, 2004-02-13. Relating Events in Narrative Volume 2: Typological and Contextual Perspectives edited by Sven Strmqvist and Ludo Verhoeven is the much anticipated follow up volume to Ruth Berman and Dan Slobin's successful frog story studies book Relating Events in Narrative: A Crosslinguistic Developmental Study 1994. Working closely with Ruth Berman and Dan Slobin, the new editors have brought together a wide range of scholars who inspired by the 1994 book have all used Mercer Mayer's Frog Where Are You as a basis for their research. The new book which is divided into two parts features a broad linguistic and cultural diversity. Contributions focusing on crosslinguistic perspectives make up the first part of the book. This part is concluded by Dan Slobin with an analysis and overview discussion of factors of linguistic typology in frog story research. The second part offers a variety of theoretical and methodological perspectives all dealing with contextual variation of narrative construction in a wide sense: variation across medium modality speech writing signing genre variation, the specific frog story narrative compared to other genres, frog story narrations from the perspective of theory of mind and from the perspective of bilingualism and second language acquisition. Several of the contributions to the new book manuscript also deal with developmental perspectives but in distinction to the 1994 book that is not the only focused issue. The second part is initiated by Ruth Berman with an analysis of the role of context in developing narrative abilities. The new book represents a rich overview and illustration of recent advances in theoretical and methodological approaches to the crosslinguistic study of narrative discourse. A red thread throughout the book is that crosslinguistic variation is not merely a matter of variation in form but also in content and aspects of cognition. A recurrent perspective on language and thought is that of Dan Slobin's theory of thinking for speaking, an approach to cognitive consequences of linguistic diversity. The book ends with an epilogue by Herbert Clark, Variations on a Ranarian Theme The Public Garden, 1998.

Relating Events in Narrative: Typological and contextual perspectives Ruth Aronson Berman, 1994. This follow up volume to the frog story studies book Relating Events in Narrative: A Cross Linguistic Developmental Study 1994 is divided into two main parts. Part one focuses on crosslinguistic perspectives whilst part two offers a variety of theoretical and methodological perspectives. Relating Events Narrative Set

Various Authors,2020-12-29 This volume represents the culmination of an extensive research project that studied the development of linguistic form function relations in narrative discourse It is unique in the extent of data which it analyzes more than 250 texts from children and adults speaking five different languages and in its crosslinguistic typological focus It is the first book to address the issue of how the structural properties and rhetorical preferences of different native languages English German Spanish Hebrew and Turkish impinge on narrative abilities across different phases of development The work of Berman and Slobin and their colleagues provides insight into the interplay between shared possibly universal patterns in the developing ability to create well constructed globally organized narratives among preschoolers from three years of age compared with school children and adults contrasted against the impact of typological and rhetorical features of particular native languages on how speakers express these abilities in the process of relating events in narrative This volume also makes a special contribution to the field of language acquisition and development by providing detailed analyses of how linguistic forms come to be used in the service of narrative functions such as the expression of temporal relations of simultaneity and retrospection perspective taking on events and textual connectivity To present this information the authors prepared in depth analyses of a wide range of linguistic systems including tense aspect marking passive and middle voice locative and directional predications connectivity markers null subjects and relative clause constructions In contrast to most work in the field of language acquisition this book focuses on developments in the use of these early forms in extended discourse beyond the initial phase of early language development
