Kempton, 1989-05-15 This study is the first significant work to examine Soviet involvement with national liberation movements NLMs in Africa as a separate subcategory of Soviet foreign policy in the developing world The text compares and contrasts actual Soviet behavior with declared policy Daniel R Kempton presents three case studies the African National Congress ANC in South Africa The Movimento Popular de Libertacao de Angola MPLA and the Zimbabwe African People's Union ZAPU These cases trace the development of the Soviet Union's ties to the national liberation movements the amount and types of assistance provided and the impact of the relationship on the national liberation movements General analysts of international relations analysts of Soviet foreign policy and Africanists will find this a valuable resource The author contends that during the 1960s and 1970s the Soviet Union pursued a common strategy toward all three national liberation movements Although the strategy was applied flexibly to take into account the idiosyncracies of the individual liberation struggles in each case the Soviet Union pushed the national liberation movement to adopt the Soviet political model The Soviet view was that the adoption of this model would eventually lead to the development of relatively more stable and dependable allies Since 1980 however in each case there is significant evidence that the Soviet Union has
