The Political Party Matrix:

The Nationalization of American Political Parties, 1880-1896 Daniel Klinghard, 2010-04-19 This book investigates the creation of the first truly nationalized party organizations in the United States in the late nineteenth century an innovation that reversed the parties traditional privileging of state and local interests in nominating campaigns and the conduct of national campaigns Between 1880 and 1896 party elites crafted a defense of these national organizations that charted the theoretical parameters of American party development into the twentieth century With empowered national committees and a new understanding of the parties role in the political system national party leaders dominated American politics in new ways renewed the parties legitimacy in an increasingly pluralistic and nationalized political environment and thus maintained their relevance throughout the twentieth century The new organizations particularly served the interests of presidents and presidential candidates and the little studied presidencies of the late nineteenth century demonstrate the first stirrings of modern presidential party leadership Political Parties Kenneth Janda, 1980 Political Value Patterns and Parties in Politics, Parties, and Parliaments William R. Shaffer, 1998 William R Shaffer has written a study of peaceful political change in a democracy with special emphasis on the crucial role played by parliaments Striking political change is occurring all over the world most notably in nations where communism has collapsed Although such wrenching dislocations must not be overlooked it is crucial that we also examine change in stable democracies The research reported in this book focuses upon Norway as a laboratory in which to study democratic political change Norwegian consensus style politics utilized a corporatist channel of policy making which had relegated Norway's parliament the Storting to a secondary role of rubber stamping policies developed by the government working together with relevant large interest groups With the crumbling of political consensus in the 1980s Shaffer argues the Storting has assumed much greater importance From the early 1980s through the mid 1990s political conflict directed through the electoral channel from voters to parties to parliamentary action has been crucial to the fragmentation of the post World War II consensus

Politics Parties and Parliaments presents empirical evidence of dramatic political change in both the style and substance of Norwegian politics and policy making
