O'Hara,2014-09-17

Writer Henry James 1843 1916 was born in America but preferred to live in Europe he finally become a British subject near the end of his life His status as a permanent outsider is responsible for the recurring themes in his writing dealing with European sophistication decadence compared to American lack of sophistication or innocence He is respected in modern times for his psychological insight for being able to reveal his characters deepest motivations These 11 essays along with an introduction and an afterword examine James s work through the prism of the author s latest style Topics the contributing authors address include the Henry James revival of the 1930s three of James s male aesthetics women in his works literary forgery and parallels with the career and views of Margaret Oliphant Three essays delve into issues of representation in art and fiction then three more explore decadence identity and homosexuality

A History of English Laughter ,2021-11-01 Is there a history of laughter Or isn t laughter an anthropological constant rather and thus beyond history a human feature that has defined humanity as homo ridens from cave man and cave woman to us The contributors to this collection of essays believe that laughter does have a history and try to identify continuities and turning points of this history by studying a series of English texts both canonical and non canonical from Anglosaxon to contemporary As this is not another book on the history of the comic or of comedy it does not restrict itself to comic genres some of the essays actually go out of their way to discover laughter at the margins of texts where one would not have expected it all in Beowulf or Paradise Lost or the Gothic Novel Laughter at the margins of texts which often coincides with laughter from the margins of society and its orthodoxies is one of the special concerns of this book This goes together with an interest in impure forms of laughter in laughter that is not the serene and intellectually or emotionally distanced response to a comic stimulus which is at the heart of many philosophical theories of the comic but emotionally disturbed and troubled aggressive and transgressive satanic and sardonic laughter We do not ask then what is comic but who laughs at and with whom where when why and how
