Burroughs, 2015-06-26 Excerpt from Under the Maples It was while sitting in his hay barn study in the Catskills and looking out upon the maple woods of the old home farm and under the maples at Riverby that the most of these essays were written during the last two years of the author s life And it was to the familiar haunts near his Hudson River home that his thoughts wistfully turned while wintering in Southern California in 1921 As he pictured in his mind the ice breaking up on the river in the crystalline March days the return of the birds the first hepaticas he longed to be back among them he was there in spirit gazing upon the river from the summer house or from the veranda of the Nest or seated at his table in the chestnut bark Study or busy with his sap gathering and sugar making Casting about for a title for this volume the vision of maple trees and dripping sap and crisp March days playing constantly before his mind one day while sorting and shifting the essays for his new book he suddenly said I have it We ll call it Under the Maples About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Under the Maples Walter
