

Good Morning

Good morning, sky;
Good morning, sun;
Good morning, little winds that run!

Good morning, birds;
Good morning, trees;
And creeping grass, and brownie bees!

How did you find out it was day?
Who told you night had gone away?
I'm wide awake;
I'm up now, too.
I'll be right out to play with you!

The Morning Of The Poem:

The Morning of the Poem James Schuyler, 1980 The Morning of the Poem James Schuyler, 1981-04-01 The flowers trees birds clouds and effects of light that Schuyler describes with such lan even if only glimpsed from the window of his apartment could easily be transposed to the poetry written in Japan or Persia many centuries ago Even more his culture and learning worn so lightly as almost to pass unnoticed link his verse to other and larger traditions as in this reflection on Baudelaire clearly intended as an artistic credo of sorts Open Letters Monthly Red Sky in the Morning, Poet's Warning Alex Wharton, 2025-01-23 Red Sky in the Morning Poet s Warning is the fourth collection of mysterious humorous philosophical and charming poetry for young people by Alex Wharton Children s Laureate Wales From Poems that describe Wild Boys who live alone in the woods to poems about Time and meeting an astronaut there is something for everyone These poems reflect on nature s happenings through observation and experience but not forgetting to transport the reader to many magical musical and imaginative worlds A companion piece to Red Sky at Night Poet s Delight published exactly a year earlier this ambitious volume reveals Alex as an evolving and maturing children s poet whose vibrant work will resonate deeply with his readership A Library of Religious Poetry Philip Schaff, Arthur Gilman, 1880 Religious poetry is the holy of holies of literature In all ages poets have been the interpreters of the finer feelings of humanity and the greatest have treated the loftiest themes that can employ the mind and the heart the relation of man to his Maker and the duties and privileges which arise from it It has been the aim of the editors to make the present collection truly catholic It embraces a body of representative poems of all ages denominations and countries The authors are allowed the fullest liberty of uttering their sentiments in their own words Preface Morning Poems Robert Bly, 2009-10-06 The first book of poems in eight years by this major American poet The title of this collection y was inspired by the way they were written Each morning Robert Bly sits down and write a poem The results are among his finest work shimmering with images and live with feeling and ideas Bly writes in very simple language using commonplace words and events to cut to the heart of things Many of the poems in this collection are about writing poetry and the work of an author eg Rewriting Poetry and Wanting More Applause at a Conference There s a large group of poems about his boyhood on a Minnesota farm including What the Animals Paid and A Family Picture Bly also returns to one of the major themes of his work how archtypal myths and stories shape our world in a section of poems on stries such as We re All In This Story He addresses age old issues such as the relationship between fathers and sons dealing with getting older and facing death in a very personal way The Practicing Poet Diane Lockward, 2018 Organized into ten sections with each devoted to a poetic concept The Practicing Poet begins with Discovering New Material Finding the Best Words Making Music Working with Sentences and Line Breaks Crafting Surprise and Achieving Tone The concepts become progressively more sophisticated moving on to Dealing with Feelings Transforming Your Poems and Rethinking and Revising The final section Publishing Your Book covers manuscript organization book promotion and presentation of a good public reading The book includes thirty brief craft essays each followed by a model poem and analysis of the poem s craft then a prompt based on the poem Ten recyclable bonus prompts are also included Ten Top Tips lists are each loaded with poetry wisdom from an accomplished poet The Practicing Poet pushes poets beyond the basics and encourages the continued reading learning and writing of poetry It is suitable as a textbook in the classroom a guidebook in a workshop or an at home tutorial for the practicing poet working independently The craft essays poems and top tips lists include the work of 113 contemporary poets Poem for the Day Nicholas Albery, Peter Ratcliffe, 1994 This collection contains 366 inspirational poems from around the world With a different poem for each day of the year including old favourites and new discoveries this book aims to uplift and brighten the day of those who read it Let the Bells Ring Out on Christmas Morning Ralph Vile, 2008 Selected from among approximately 1 700 poems that Ralph Vile a Christian layman and former schoolteacher of Luray Virginia wrote over a period of more than fifty years this book focuses on the holiday during which Christians throughout the world observe the birth of Jesus in Bethlehem Drawing from the Biblical accounts Ralph reflects on what it means that Jesus came to earth and on what it would mean if He had chosen not to do so The volume includes The Christmas Tree Let the Bells Ring Out The Christmas Gospel Story and many others that have touched those who have read them Written for individuals who want to celebrate the true meaning of Christmas this volume reflects the love the joy and the hope of God s greatest gift to mankind and points to the redemption that the crucified and risen Savior provides to all who believe in Him The Kagero Diary, 1997-08-01 Japan is the only country in the world where women writers laid the foundations of classical literature The Kagero Diary commands our attention as the first extant work of that rich and brilliant tradition The author known to posterity as Michitsuna s Mother a member of the middle ranking aristocracy of the Heian period 794 1185 wrote an account of 20 years of her life from 954 74 and this autobiographical text now gives readers access to a woman s experience of a thousand years ago The diary centers on the author s relationship with her husband Fujiwara Kaneie her kinsman from a more powerful and prestigious branch of the family than her own Their marriage ended in divorce and one of the author s intentions seems to have been to write an anti romance one that could be subtitled I married the prince but we did not live happily ever after Yet particularly in the first part of the diary Michitsuna s Mother is drawn to record those events and moments when the marriage did live up to a romantic ideal fostered by the Japanese tradition of love poetry At the same time she also seems to seek the freedom to live and write outside the romance myth and without a husband Since the author was by inclination and talent a poet and lived in a time when poetry was a part of everyday social intercourse her account of her life is shaped by a lyrical consciousness The poems she records are crystalline moments of awareness that vividly recall the past This new translation of the Kagero Diary conveys the long fluid sentences the complex polyphony of voices and the floating temporality of the original It also pays careful attention to the poems of the text rendering as much as possible their complex imagery and open ended quality The translation is accompanied by running notes on facing pages and an introduction that places the work within the context of contemporary discussions regarding feminist literature and the genre of autobiography and provides detailed historical information and a description of the stylistic qualities of the text
