qualifications or international PGCEs The Role of Styles and Strategies in Second Language Learning Rebecca L. Oxford, 1989 Language learners use different learning strategies specific actions and behaviors to help them learn at least partly because their general learning styles or overall approaches to learning and the environment are so varied Learning style encompasses cognitive style patterns of attitudes and interests a tendency to seek situations compatible with one's own learning patterns and a tendency to use certain learning strategies and avoid others At least twenty dimensions of learning styles have been identified Language learning strategies are often conscious steps or behaviors used to enhance acquisition storage retention recall and the use of new information Strategies can be assessed in a variety of ways Language learning research has suffered from overemphasis on metacognitive and cognitive strategies at the expense of other important considerations Research has focused on the relationship between learning strategy use and language proficiency individual differences in the use of learning strategies and the value of training in the use of language learning strategies Language learning styles and strategies appear to be among the most important variables influencing second language performance A 30 item bibliography is included MSE Vocabulary Strategy Training to Enhance Second Language Acquisition in English as a Foreign Language María Pilar Agustín Llach, 2019-11-14 This volume brings together three important aspects within strategy studies First it reviews the most outstanding previous studies in the field of vocabulary learning and communication strategies and their role in the second language acquisition and teaching process Second it provides empirical research testing general hypotheses in the field on how vocabulary learning strategies are a key component of vocabulary development and how their training improves their frequency of use and effectiveness Finally the book proposes a program for strategy training in the L2 classroom and illustrates it with examples from concrete vocabulary learning strategies and proposes exercises to apply them in an autonomous way This volume will shed light on the field of vocabulary learning strategies and illustrate their practical utility in the foreign language classroom in order to improve the knowledge that teachers and learners have of them Visualisation and Linguaging for English Language Teaching and Learning in an Online Primary School Classroom in China Dandan Chen, 2023-08-10 Doctoral Thesis Dissertation from the year 2023 in the subject Pedagogy Intercultural Pedagogy grade pass without corrections University of Edinburgh Moray House School of Education and Sport course PhD Education language English abstract This study investigates the role of visualisation in language education to explore a visual strategy for learning that is driven by the goal of deeper learning for all learners built on theoretical principles of pluriliteracies development learner agency and multimodality The integration of these concepts has significantly impacted the rationale of the research foci and therefore lies at the heart of this pioneering study that connects pluriliteracies with English language teaching and learning in a primary school in China In order to investigate the potential role of visuals in English language learning classrooms this study was conducted by designing and teaching visual related thematic content to three small groups of English younger learners in China and interviewing them using their own preferred online platform Participants were encouraged to create visuals for example drawings to demonstrate their thinking of abstract conceptual knowledge and scaffold their communication with peers and the teacher researcher Such integration of visual creation with language learning is facilitated by learner teacher Learning Conversations constructing a shared learning space owned and led by learners which may offer a clear steer in the direction of promoting learner agency and achieving the quality of learning thereby complementing traditional ways of teaching in China and beyond Emphasised by research and studies regarding pedagogies for quality and successful learning Coyle Meyer 2017 the long established means of measuring learning using tests and examinations may not be sufficient for building learners sense of achievement and agentic mindset to direct their own learning Given the importance attached to PISA league tables on a global basis the quality of education is at the core of socio political concerns offering alternative pedagogic thinking to education systems that define passing examinations as the main criterion of academic success Note from the editor The PowerPoint presentation in the appendix had to be edited due to copyright concerns
