Gerontechnology Jan A. M. Graafmans,Vappu Taipale,Neil Charness,1998 This publication is concerned with gerontechnology the study of technology and ageing with the aim of improving the functioning of older people in daily life The first part of the book is a compilation of the key note addresses describing the background for and the conditions under which the emerging field of gerontechnology can be developed further The chapters deal with political socio economic ethical demographic issues related to gerontechnology Furthermore methodological approaches in human factors ergonomics and industrial design are described Trends in technological developments and innovations conclude the first volume The second part presents some 80 case studies divided over 9 sections 1 perception and cognition 2 communication technology 3 mobility and transport 4 health and home care technology 5 housing 6 training and education 7 safety and security 8 product design and 9 culture and attitudes The Speed of Change Jan Bart Gewald,Sabine Luning,Klaas Van Walraven,2009 In the early 1900s the motor vehicle car bus lorry or motor cycle was introduced in sub Saharan Africa Initially the plaything and symbol of colonial domination the motor vehicle transformed the economic and social life of the continent Indeed the motor vehicle is arguably the single most important factor for change in Africa in the twentieth century A factor for change that thus far has been neglected in research and literature Yet its impact extends across the totality of human existence from ecological devastation to economic advancement from cultural transformation to political change through to a myriad of other themes This edited volume of eleven contributions by historians anthropologists and social and political scientists explores aspects of the social history and anthropology of the motor vehicle in Africa Engineering in Context ,2009

Managing Technology in Society Arie Rip,Thomas J. Misa,J. W. Schot,1995 A fateful conceptual gap separates the policy makers and managers charged with promoting technology and the risk and technology assessors responsible for controlling it This hampers the effective use of many new technologies and prevents the development of others The strategy of constructive technology assessment CTA addresses this gap through facilitating societal learning processes and proposing a shared responsibility for the promotion and control of new technologies Combining analysis of both cases and concepts Managing Technology in Society confronts the underdevelopment of innovative potential for achieving goals of wealth sustainability and safety Factors that block change as well as conditions for successful learning are identified in a wide ranging selection of cases that encompass biotechnology clean technologies information and medical technologies The contributors build on the convergence of recent theories on technical change within economics sociology and the history of technology to offer suggestions for CTA action and so create a new paradigm of managing technology in society BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved The process of technological change : new technology and social choice in the workplace ,1988 Software Process Technology ,1992 Business
