Surviving Cancer Michael A. Sirover, 2008-12-12 Overview coming soon Health Services for Cancer Survivors
Michael Feuerstein, Patricia A. Ganz, 2011-06-15 Health has been conceptualized by world and national health organizations WHO CDC Healthy People 2010 as more than the absence of disease It involves a focus on physical psychosocial and functional aspects of life as well as the prevention of future illnesses At this point in the development of quality health care for cancer survivors there is sufficient knowledge and expert opinion to push efforts forward to improve the health of cancer survivors Clearly there is more research in the most prevalent forms of cancers e g breast cancer than others that provide us with guidance on how to optimize their health but there are data on other forms of cancers that can also better inform practice There may also be general care practices that can cut across cancer types There has been an emergence of epidemiological and clinical research in cancer survivors that can form the basis for a revolution in the quality and nature of health care that survivors receive This book not only provides the reader with diverse perspectives and data but also integrates this information so it can serve as the foundation necessary to improve and maintain the health of cancer survivors Reporting of symptoms to health care providers is a complex multi determined problem influenced not only by the pathophysiology but also as we have learned over the years through pain research by societal cultural and biobehavioral factors This book will consider this important aspect of follow up for millions of cancer survivors because of the strong reliance on symptom reporting for clinical decision making In order for us to generate meaningful and effective treatment we need to better understand the symptom experience in cancer survivors This book provides much information that will assist us to better understand and manage this complicated end point The presenting problems need to be articulated and conceptualized as clearly as possible by both parties so appropriate actions can be taken Since health care costs are a major concern for patients payers and providers this area will also be addressed in all the relevant sections In taking an interdisciplinary perspective this book illustrates the importance of a team approach to the improvement of health care and associated health well being and functioning in cancer survivors The 17 chapters cover critical topics of which physicians and providers of all types must be aware in order to provide the most comprehensive and responsive care for cancer survivors All of the clinical care chapters include case studies to illustrate the real world application of these approaches in cancer survivors Information about sources of referral both within and outside the traditional health care communities will be provided in tabular form There is no other text that provides both an overview of the problems and their challenges case illustrations of direct application and the reality of reimbursement for such care The editors hope that there may be no need for the clinician or the survivor to adapt to a new normal if the presenting problems are understood and handled from an interdisciplinary perspective as outlined here Surviving Cancer Emotionally Roger Granet, 2001-10 Informs readers about the emotional side of cancer providing a guide for understanding what is to be expected showing them how to handle

Who Survives Cancer? Howard P. Greenwald, 2024-06-28 Howard P Greenwald takes an incisive look at how class race sex psychological state type of health care and available treatments affect one's chance of surviving cancer Drawing on a ten year survival study of cancer patients he synthesizes medical epidemiological and psychosocial research in a uniquely interdisciplinary and eye opening approach to the question of who survives cancer and why Scientists health care professionals philanthropists government agencies and the public all agree that significant resources must be allocated to fight this dreaded disease But what is the most effective way to do it Greenwald argues that our priorities have been misplaced and calls for a fundamental rethinking of the way the American medical establishment deals with cancer He asserts that prevention and experimental therapy have only limited value whereas the availability of conventional medical care has a greater influence on cancer survival Class and race become strikingly significant in predicting who has access to health care and thus can obtain medical treatment in a timely effective manner Greenwald counters the popular notion that personality and psychological factors strongly affect survival and he underscores the importance of early detection His research shows that health maintenance organizations while sometimes prone to delays offer low income patients a better chance of ultimate survival Greenwald pleads for immediate attention to the inadequacies and inequalities in our health care delivery system that deter patients from seeking early medical care Instead of focusing on research and the hope for a breakthrough cure Greenwald urges renewed emphasis on ensuring available health care to all Americans In its challenge to the thrust of much biomedical research and its critique of contemporary American health care as well as in its fresh and often counterintuitive look at cancer survival Who Survives Cancer is invaluable for policymakers health care professionals and anyone who has survived or been touched by cancer This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1992 Everyone's Guide to Cancer Survivorship Ernest Rosenbaum,Holly Gautier,2011-10-01 This book was written both for survivors and health professionals some of whom are cancer survivors too Our goal is to provide you with a survivor s road map Dr Ernest H Rosenbaum More than 30 medical professionals reveal insights on surviving cancer to empower cancer survivors and their caregivers as well as the doctors who manage their continued care The CDC s National Action Plan for Cancer Survivorship estimates that there are 9.6 million persons living following a cancer diagnosis And this number is strictly related to patients It does not include family members friends or caregivers For anyone approaching life from the perspective of remission respected oncologist Dr Ernest Rosenbaum leads a team of 34 oncology specialists and medical contributors some of whom are both doctors and survivors themselves in creating a guide specifically geared for cancer survivorship The growing number of people approaching life post cancer will find solace understanding and opportunity with information specifically geared to managing the lingering effects of cancer treatment such as Lifestyle changes to improve health and longevity What survivors need to know following anticancer therapy How to manage the side effects of chemotherapy and radiation therapy How to set goals for the future

The Cancer Experience Doris L. Carnevali,Ann Reiner,1990 Still Here Kickin' Carl Dixon,2009-11 Still Here Kickin' was written for all cancer patients and caregivers to hopefully help others by telling my story My family and friends have told me that my attitude and honesty regarding my cancer should be written down and shared with others Thus Still Here Kickin' was born When I was first diagnosed I never said Why me Lord I never got mad at anyone or at God I wasn't scared And as I always do I started figuring out my Plans I came up with Plans A G When A doesn't work we move to Plan B and if that stops working on to Plan C and so on When facing an incurable cancer a positive attitude is the 1 factor for overcoming and living with this disease I think this book is needed to help other cancer survivors maintain that positive attitude and learn to live with their problem and maintain that happy and fulfilling life It is OK to laugh all is not lost Remember you ARE A SURVIVOR starting with the date of your diagnosis May GOD bless you and keep you throughout YOUR Journey Twentieth Century Practice: Infectious diseases and malignant new growths. 1899 Thomas Lathrop Stedman,1899
