The TV Kid Betsy Cromer Byars,1974-06-01 A Kid's TV Guide Joy Wilt Berry,1982 Discusses some of the good and bad aspects of television and points out safety factors to observe while watching television how to choose a suitable program and how to adopt a critical approach to commercials TV-a-Go-Go Jake Austen,2005-07-01 From Elvis and a hound dog wearing matching tuxedos and the comic adventures of artificially produced bands to elaborate music videos and contrived reality show contests television as this critical look brilliantly shows has done a superb job of presenting the energy of rock in a fabulously entertaining but patently fake manner The dichotomy of fake and real music as it is portrayed on television is presented in detail through many generations of rock music the Monkees shared the charts with the Beatles Tupac and Slayer fans voted for corny American Idols and shows like Shindig and Soul Train somehow captured the unhinged energy of rock far more effectively than most long haired guitar smashing acts Also shown is how TV has often delighted in breaking the rules while still mostly playing by them Bo Diddley defied Ed Sullivan and sang rock and roll after he had been told not to the Chipmunks subversive antics prepared kids for punk rock and things got out of hand when Saturday Night Live invited punk kids to attend a taping of the band Fear Every aspect of the idiosyncratic history of rock and TV and their peculiar relationship is covered including cartoon rock music programming for African American audiences punk on television Michael Jackson s life on TV and the tortured history of MTV and its progeny Every Kid's Guide to Watching TV

Intelligently Joy Wilt Berry,1987-06 Discusses some of the good and bad aspects of television and some safety factors to observe while watching television Make Room for TV Lynn Spigel,1992-06 Between 1948 and 1955 nearly two thirds of all American families bought a television set and a revolution in social life and popular culture was launched In this fascinating book Lynn Spigel chronicles the enormous impact of television in the formative years of the new medium how over the course of a single decade television became an intimate part of everyday life What did Americans expect from it What effects did the new daily ritual of watching television have on children Was television welcomed as an unprecedented window on the world or as a one eyed monster that would disrupt households and corrupt children Drawing on an ambitious array of unconventional sources from sitcom scripts to articles and advertisements in women's magazines Spigel offers the fullest available account of the popular response to television in the postwar years She chronicles the role of television as a focus for evolving debates on issues ranging from the ideal of the perfect family and changes in women's role within the household to new uses of domestic space The arrival of television did more than turn the living room into a private theater it offered a national stage on which to play out and resolve conflicts about the way Americans should live Spigel chronicles this lively and contentious debate as it took place in the popular media Of particular interest is her treatment of the way in which the phenomenon of television itself was constantly deliberated from how programs should be watched to where the set was placed to whether Mom Dad or kids should control the dial Make Room for TV combines a powerful analysis of the growth of electronic culture with a nuanced social history of family life in postwar America offering a provocative glimpse of the way television became the mirror of so many of America's hopes and fears and dreams TV Guide, 1990 Instructor, 1980
