The Choice Is Clear:

Individual Differences in Judgement and Decision-Making Maggie E. Toplak, Joshua Weller, 2016-11-25 Children face an overwhelming amount of information and a range of different choices every day and so there has never been a more important time to understand how children learn to make judgments and decisions in our modern world Individual Differences in Judgment and Decision Making presents cutting edge developmental research to advance our knowledge and understanding of how these competencies emerge Focusing on the role of individual differences the text provides a complementary theoretical approach to understanding the development of judgment and decision making skills and how and why these competencies vary within and between different periods of development Sampling a diverse set of developmental paradigms and measures as well as considering typical and atypically developing samples this volume provokes thinking about how we can support our children and youth to help them make better choices Drawing on the expertise of a range of international contributors this book will be of interest to students and researchers of thinking and reasoning from both cognitive and developmental psychology backgrounds

A Time to Speak Robert H. Bork, 2023-08-22 Since at least 1971 when he published a seminal article on constitutional interpretation in the Indiana Law Journal Robert Bork has been the legal and moral conscience of America reminding us of our founding principles and their cultural foundation The scourge of liberal ideologues both before and after Ronald Reagan nominated him for the Supreme Court in 1987 Bork has for fifty years unwaveringly exposed and explained the hypocrisy and dereliction of duty endemic among our nation's elites the politicization and adversary activism of our courts and the consequent degradation of American society Now for the first time Judge Bork has gathered together his most important and prophetic writings in A Time to Speak including a foreword and commentary by the author The volume includes more than sixty vintage Bork contributions on topics ranging from President Nixon to St Thomas More from abortion to antitrust policy and from civil liberties to natural law It also includes several of his judicial opinions and transcribed oral arguments A Time to Speak is an indispensable book for all who have hearkened to the truths spoken so forthrightly in season and out by this great American original

Engineering a Compiler Keith D. Cooper, Linda Torczon, 2003-12-11 The proliferation of processors environments and constraints on systems has cast compiler technology into a wider variety of settings changing the compiler and compiler writer's role No longer is execution speed the sole criterion for judging compiled code Today code might be judged on how small it is how much power it consumes how well it compresses or how many page faults it generates In this evolving environment the task of building a successful compiler relies upon the compiler writer's ability to balance and blend algorithms engineering insights and careful planning Today's compiler writer must choose a path through a design space that is filled with diverse alternatives each with distinct costs advantages and complexities Engineering a Compiler explores this design space by presenting some of the ways these problems have been solved and the constraints that made each of those solutions attractive By understanding the parameters of the problem and their impact on compiler design the authors hope to convey both the depth of the problems and the breadth of possible solutions Their goal is to cover a broad enough selection of material to show readers that real tradeoffs exist and that the impact of those choices can be both subtle and far reaching Authors Keith Cooper and Linda Torczon convey both the art and the science of compiler construction and show best practice algorithms for the major passes of a compiler Their text re balances the curriculum for an introductory course in compiler construction to reflect the issues that arise in current practice Focuses on the back end of the compiler reflecting the focus of research and development over the last decade Uses the well developed theory from scanning and parsing to introduce concepts that play a critical role in optimization and code generation Introduces the student to optimization through data flow analysis SSA form and a selection of scalar optimizations Builds on this background to teach modern methods in code generation instruction selection instruction scheduling and register allocation Presents examples in several different programming languages in order to best illustrate the concept Provides end of chapter exercises
