Women And Power In The Middle East:

Women and Power in the Middle East Suad Joseph, Susan Slyomovics, 2011-10-20 The seventeen essays in Women and Power in the Middle East analyze the social political economic and cultural forces that shape gender systems in the Middle East and North Africa Published at different times in Middle East Report the journal of the Middle East Research and Information Project the essays document empirically the similarities and differences in the gendering of relations of power in twelve countries Morocco Algeria Tunisia Egypt Sudan Palestine Lebanon Turkey Kuwait Saudi Arabia Yemen and Iran Together they seek to build a framework for understanding broad patterns of gender in the Arab Islamic world Challenging questions are addressed throughout What roles have women played in politics in this region When and why are women politically mobilized and which women Does the nature and impact of their mobilization differ if it is initiated by the state nationalist movements revolutionary parties or spontaneous revolt And what happens to women when those agents of mobilization win or lose In investigating these and other issues the essays take a look at the impact of rapid social change in the Arab Islamic world They also analyze Arab disillusionment with the radical nationalisms of the 1950s and 1960s and with leftist ideologies as well as the rise of political Islamist movements Indeed the essays present rich new approaches to assessing what political participation has meant for women in this region and how emerging national states there have dealt with organized efforts by women to influence the institutions that govern their lives Designed for courses in Middle East women s and cultural studies Women and Power in the Middle East offers to both students and scholars an excellent introduction to the study of gender in the Arab Islamic world

Women, Power, and Ethnicity Patricia S.E. Darlington, Becky Michele Mulvaney, 2014-06-03 Powerful women aren t just men walking around in dresses As women continue to assume positions of social leadership in increasing numbers the dynamics of the social construction of power need to be examined Have women adopted traditionally male patterns of behavior in an effort to gain and maintain power in business industry politics academics etc And if not what kind of power are women practicing The authors of Women Power and Ethnicity Working Toward Reciprocal Empowerment endeavored to find out by conducting a research study on how women from various racial and ethnic backgrounds compare and contrast the attributes associated with existing power paradigms traditional empowerment personal authority with an alternate model of power reciprocal empowerment Reciprocal empowerment is a discursive and behavioral style of interaction grounded in reciprocity initiated by people who feel a sense of personal authority Reciprocal empowerment enables people with mutual self interests to rise above obstacles based on social and political structures and to use personal authority to discuss and act on issues openly and honestly in order to effect change Using a qualitative methodology Women Power and Ethnicity includes the results of surveys and interviews with women from seven different ethnic groups in the United States to determine if the concept or reciprocal empowerment resonates with them The answer Yes Women Power and Ethnicity is organized by surveys and interview findings on women from seven cultural groups living in the United States African Asian Caribbean European Latin Middle Eastern Native American Each chapter includes analyses of ethnographic findings surveys and interviews concise historical information effects of immigration where applicable tables and diagrams direct quotes and much more Women Power and Ethnicity examines women s attitudes toward power in several social forums home job religion politics and society in general The book is an essential resource for teachers and students of communication studies women studies gender studies ethnic studies and social sciences

Reconstructing Gender in Middle East Fatma Muge Gocek,Balaghi Shiva,1995-06-15 Employing a broad interdisciplinary perspective on gender relations Reconstructing Gender in the Middle East questions long standing stereotypes about the traditional subordination of women in the region With essays on gender construction in Iran Turkey Israel Morocco Egypt Lebanon and the Occupied Territories this collection offers a wide ranging exploration of tradition identity and power in different parts of the Middle East Seeking to overcome monolithic Western notions of women s life in the traditional society the essays in Part I reexamine the assumption that such societies leave little room for female participation Part II focuses on the reconstruction of identities by women in Iran Turkey Israel and the Occupied Territories The authors examine the complex variables that contribute to the development of identities including gender class and ethnicity in various Middle Eastern societies questioning whether certain identities are more important to women than others These essays also look at the issue of group identity formation versus the autonomy of the individual Part III looks at the relationship between gender and power in everyday life in Lebanon Israel Egypt and Morocco showing how power relations are constantly contested and renegotiated among family members and members of a community between nations and between men and women With its collection of enlightened and diverse contemporary perspectives on women in the Middle East Reconstructing Gender in the Middle East is an important work that will have significant impact on the way we look at gender in traditional societies

Women and Politics in the Middle East through a Marxist Feminist Lens Reham El Morally, 2019-07-05 Scientific Study from the year 2019 in the subject Politics Other International Politics Topics grade 4 0 University of Reading language English abstract The hierarchical social relations inherent to any patriarchal system have resulted in women s social identities becoming dependent on their relationship with men as a fathers or husbands Such relationships have encouraged the view that the oppression of women is the cornerstone of such systems and that their liberation is an essential condition for overcoming it My question for this paper is What is the relationship between patriarchy and women s marginalization and absence in the political sphere In this paper I will discuss how women are marginalized and silenced by force rather than by choice To further elaborate on that it must be clear that women especially in the Middle East are constrained by different types of patriarchy They are restrained from growing and aspiring to change power relations by the legal system by the social conventions and the unequal power relations between male and female and lastly by externalities that constructed the polity of the region In order to further carry out this research paper I will use a Marxist feminist theoretical framework to analyze the issue of women s marginalization in the Middle East

Middle East Studies Association Bulletin ,1976 Women, Power and Politics in 21st Century Iran Tara Povey, Elaheh Rostami-Povey, 2012 A truly fascinating insider s look at the experiences of Iranian women as academics political and civil society activists this book counters the often inaccurate and misleading stereotyping of Iranian women to present a vibrant and diverse picture of these women s lives A welcome and unique addition to the vibrant and growing literature on women Islam development democracy and feminisms

The Middle East, Abstracts and Index ,2005 Women in the Muslim World Lois Beck, Nikki R. Keddie, 1978 Examines the place of Muslim women in contemporary law and society their historical roles in cultural and political development their status within nomadic rural and urban societies and the impact of ritual and religion o ther lives Women in Asia Barbara N. Ramusack, Sharon L. Sievers, 1999 Barbara N Ramusack surveys the prescriptive roles and lived experiences of women from the period of the early states to the 1990s Women in Islam Marjorie Wall Bingham, Susan Hill Gross, 1980 Examines the historical social and cultural roles of Islamic women in the Middle East from ancient to modern times Social Science Research and Women in the Arab World Unesco, 1984 Contains eight studies by women specialists from Algeria Egypt Iraq Libyan Arab Jamahiriya Morocco Saudi Arabia Tunisia and Sudan

Index of Islamic Literature , 1996 Women, Power, and Kinship Politics Mina Roces, 1998-05-26 Politics in the Philippines is not male dominated but gendered This book examines how women hold power unofficially through their kinship ties with male politicians Examining the perspectives of local concepts of power the author explores gender and power in post war Philippines and characterizes kinship politics embedded in the predominate political culture Women s power is a site where the conflict between the two discourses of kinship politics and modern nationalist values is daily contested Unofficial women s power is resourced through kinship politics but because it is exercised behind the scenes it makes women vulnerable to criticisms that they are manipulative or scheming wielding power that is illegal undemocratic anti nationalist and unaccountable But at the other end of the equation women s crusades against graft and corruption is doubly legitimized through both the modern discursive prioritizing of the nation state and through women s traditional gendered roles as moral guardians This book will be of interest to scholars and students in Philippine studies Southeast Asian history gender studies women and power in Asia and feminist studies

Gender and Violence in the Middle East Moha Ennaji, Fatima Sadiqi, 2011-04-22 This book explores the relationship between Islamism secularism and violence against women in the Middle East and North Africa Drawing on case studies from across the region the authors examine the historical cultural religious social legal and political factors affecting this key issue Chapters by established scholars from within and outside the region highlight the interconnections of violence and various sources of power in the Middle East the state society and the family conceptions of violence as family and social practice and dominant discourse the role of violence as pattern for social structuring in the nation state By centring the chapters around these key areas the volume provides an innovative theoretical and systematic research model for gender and violence in the Middle East and North Africa Dealing with issues that are not easily accessible in the West this book underlines the importance of understanding realities and problems relevant to Muslim and Arab societies and discusses possible ways of promoting reforms in the MENA region As such it will be of great interest to students and scholars of gender studies sociology political science and criminal justice

Gender Antagonism and Social Change in a Patriarchal Community Mark Paul Diyammi, 2008 This study is an analysis of social anthropology and provides information on interaction and conflict in African society Its findings are based on material obtained through personal interviews and by detailed observation of the lives of women and their husbands The author sets out the nature method and aims of these social and anthropological investigations He gives details of the inequalities conflicts hostilities and aggression within the gender relationship by means of which the male community seeks to extend its influence far beyond the domestic arena Also underlined is the role of women as mothers in the maintenance of the family unit and the acceptance of domestic responsibility The book also analyses in depth treatment of socio economic change gender values and social norms as well as Iraqw patriarchal ideology religious thoughts and cultural values within a changing context Consideration is also given to Iraqw rituals marriage and domestic mores The author shows how all these aspects can be understood through a realisation of the struggle for power existing between the heads of the households and their dependants The reader is thus given an overall picture of the changes taking place in modern Iraqw society and the effect these changes have on male female relationships within and without the family circle Also discussed is the question of family and interethnic conflict management
