The Routledge Handbook of Contemporary Inequalities and the Life Course Magda Nico, Gary Pollock, 2021-12-30 Drawing upon perspectives from across the globe and employing an interdisciplinary life course approach this handbook explores the production and reproduction of different types of inequality across a variety of social contexts Inequalities are not static easily measurable and essentially quantifiable circumstances of life They are processes which impact on individuals throughout the life course interacting with each other accumulating attenuating reproducing or distorting themselves along the way The chapters in this handbook examine various types of inequality such as economic gender racial and ethnic inequalities and analyse how these inequalities manifest themselves within different aspects of society including health education and the family at multiple levels and dimensions The handbook also tackles the global COVID 19 pandemic and its striking impact on the production and intensification of inequalities The interdisciplinary life course approach utilised in this handbook combines quantitative and qualitative methods to bridge the gap between theory and practice and offer strategies and principles for identifying and tackling issues of inequality This book will be indispensable for students and researchers as well as activists and policy makers interested in understanding and eradicating the processes of production reproduction and perpetuation of inequalities

Rethinking the Meaning of Family for Adolescents and Youth in Zimbabwe's Child Welfare Institutions Getrude Dadirai Gwenzi, 2023-02-13 This book examines the lives of children and young adults living in residential care systems in Zimbabwe and their unique conceptualization of family While the importance of family for the development and wellbeing of children can't be overemphasized the questions of what and who counts as family to orphans and vulnerable children OVCs are under researched Gwenzi brings a social constructionist approach to study OVCs in institutional care as well as living with their families in Zimbabwe finding that they do not have a single definition of family and that they use diverse characteristics to describe what family means to them With the data suggesting a need for belonging continuity of relationships protection and trust this study makes recommendations for policy and practice with youth in alternative care in sub Saharan Africa Illegal Drug Use Through The Lifecourse David Moxon,Jaime Waters,2016-10-04 Hidden older illegal drug users are a seldom researched group most research on illegal drug users instead focusses on the young or the institutionalised To counter this trend this book reports on a study of current hidden users of illegal drugs aged 40 and over These are individuals who have sustained illegal drug use over the long term largely away from the gaze of the authorities whilst living otherwise conventional lives holding down jobs raising families and so on Thus they have much to tell us about how illegal substances can be integrated into life over the long term how that integration intersects with other aspects of one s existence and how illegal drug use is ultimately shaped by changes in personal circumstances and wider social contexts Utilising insights from the life course perspective the development of the participants use over their lives is analysed and placed in social context The book also details the nature of their current drug use Thus the book illustrates the place of illegal drugs in the lives of the participants and how this came to be over the decades as they also juggled work family and the everyday minutiae of life with their use The result is a unique look at the illegal drug use of an often ignored group of older drug users which charts the changing role that illegal drugs have played and continue to play in their lives Medical Sociology on the Move William C. Cockerham,2025-09-01 This 2nd edition provides readers with an updated single source reviewing and updating sociological theory in medical or health sociology The book not only addresses the major theoretical approaches in the field today it also identifies the future directions these theories are likely to take in explaining the social processes affecting health and disease Many of the chapters are written by leading medical sociologists who feature the use of theory in their everyday work including contributions from the original theorists of fundamental causes health lifestyles and medicalization Theories focusing on both agency and structure are included to provide a comprehensive account of this important area in medical sociology The book includes a new chapter on life course theory Childhood, Generational Order and the Welfare State Helmut Wintersberger,2007 So far research on the welfare state has usually neglected children and childhood In the rare attempts to include childhood in welfare state analysis too much emphasis was placed on children as future adults However only a full recognition of children as human beings and citizens here and now are compatible with new social studies of childhood as well as children s rights discourses Thus the conceptual integration of children and childhood in the welfare state is still an open question This book closes the gap by offering the concept of generational order as theoretical tool to both childhood and welfare state research In analogy to gender analysis this concept is an adequate tool in providing visibility to the adult bias of traditional welfare state theories and practices The book includes contributors from ten predominantly European countries exploring issues of children s social and economic welfare such as child poverty in a theoretical methodological and practical perspective Together with the companion volume below Flexible Childhood also by the University Press of Southern Denmark this book is the final result of COST Action A19 Children s Welfare which has been supported by the European COST Framework Global Handbook of Inequality Surinder S. Jodhka, Boike Rehbein, 2024-11-19 This handbook provides the most up to date and comprehensive review of the literature on inequality It provides comprehensive overviews of the main theoretical traditions concepts dimensions methodologies and contemporary debates around inequality as well as outlines of the situation of inequality in the world regions Each entry covers the most relevant literature on the respective topic and gives an introduction to the key discussions This authoritative reference work includes contributions from established and upcoming scholars based all over the world and is truly global in perspective It serves as a first introduction to the study of a particular field or issue related to inequality The distinctive aspect of this handbook is its emphasis on the lived realities of inequality its relational and cultural aspects as well as the economic and quantitative aspects This is a must read reference volume for students researchers and professionals interested in this topic across the spectrum of the social sciences

A Guide to Humanistic Studies in Aging Thomas R. Cole, Ruth E. Ray, Robert Kastenbaum, 2010-06 Aging has long been of interest to scholars and practitioners in a vast array of academic fields and professions Thomas R Cole Ruth E Ray and Robert Kastenbaum have brought together leaders from a variety of academic realms to explore how aging is depicted in the modern era and the effect of these portrayals on individuals and society

Everyday Masculinities and Extreme Sport Victoria Robinson, 2008-09-01 Rock climbing is one of today's most popular extreme sports Although many women are involved the sport retains a particularly male image and culture Everyday Masculinities and Extreme Sport presents the first in depth study of rock climbing in the UK analysing what it reveals about the contemporary construction and performance of masculinity through sport One of the key concerns of the book is the relationship between everyday masculinity and the pursuit of the extraordinary through sport Drawing on insights from sociology and gender studies the book challenges traditional approaches to the analysis of sport

Flexible Childhood? Helmut Wintersberger, Helga Zeiher, 2007 Children's spaces are widening culturally and socially Socially children's spaces are more often multilocal Culturally they are enlarged through mobility in the globalized and virtual spaces in the media saturated world Children's times are also less confined by strict borderlines The more flexible and individualized use of time in the world of work impacts on children's lives in families day care and school The chapters of this volume each present particular temporal and spatial aspects of social change in childhood The book is directed toward considering the impact of such change on children's welfare As former boundaries between generations begin to blur and neo liberal forces enter all realms of people's lives it can no longer be taken for granted as it was in former periods of modernity that continued efforts to realize the childhood project will automatically guarantee the best interest of the child With respect to children's welfare in time and space Flexible Childhood discusses tensions between demands from the market economy dynamics of rationalization and technology and visions of a good childhood Together with the above companion volume Childhood Generational Order and the Welfare State also by the University Press of Southern Denmark this book is the final result of COST Action A19 Children's Welfare which has been supported by the European COST

Framework Death and the Noble Body in Medieval England Danielle Westerhof,2008 Death and the cadaver visions of corruption Embodying nobility aristocratic men and the ideal body Here lies nobility aristocratic bodies in death Shrouded in ambiguity decay and the incorruptibility of the body Corruption of nobility treason and the aristocratic traitor Dying in shame destroying aristocratic identities Medieval Life Cycles Isabelle Cochelin,Karen Elaine Smyth,2013 The essays in this collection present new research into a variety of questions on birth childhood adolescence adulthood middle age and old age ordered in a more or less chronological manner according to the lifecycle The volume exposes attitudes and representations of the lifecycle from the Anglo Saxon period to the end of the Middle Ages as being full of inconsistencies as well as definitive categories and of variation and stasis This attests to the fact that medieval conceptions and representations of the stages of life and their interrelationships are much more nuanced and less idealized than is usually credited Medieval conceptual mental artistic cultural and sociological processes are scrutinized using various approaches and methods that cross disciplinary boundaries What is emphasized across the volume is that there were varying context dependent rhythms of continuity and change in every stage of life in the medieval period The volume s selection of authors is international in scope and represents some of the leading current scholarship in the field Understanding Society Through Popular Music Joseph A.
