Un Monde Apart:

Transnationalism and Translation in Modern Chinese, English, French and Japanese Literatures Ryan

Johnson, 2020-12-15 The theory of literary worlds has become increasingly important in comparative and world literatures. But how are the often contradictory elements of Eastern and Western literatures to cohere in the new worlds such contact creates. Drawing on the latest work in philosophical logic and analytic Asian philosophy this monograph proposes a new model of literary worlds that is best suited to comparative literature dealing with Western and East Asian traditions. Unlike much discussion of world literature anchored in North American traditions featured here is the transnational work of artists, philosophers and poets writing in English, French, Japanese and Mandarin in the twentieth century. Rather than imposing sharp borders this book suggests that vague boundaries link Eastern and Western literary works and traditions and that degrees of distance can better help us to see the multiple dimensions that both distinguish and join together literary worlds. East and West. As such it enables us to grasp not only how East Asian and Western writers translate one another's works into their own languages and traditions but also how modern writers East and West modify their own traditions in order to make them fit in the new constellation of literary worlds brought about by the complex flow of literary information across twentieth century Eurasia. Le grand dictionnaire Hachette-Oxford Marie-Hélène Corréard, Valerie Grundy, Jean-Benoit

What distinguishes this group is that they are not professionals in the sense that taking pictures wasn't really a job it was a compulsion something they had to do. Billy Name was a major domo at the silver Warhol Factory. Gerard Malanga was a poet and Warhol's painting assistant. Danny Fields was a mover and shaker in the record business responsible for the management of such talents as Iggy and The Stooges, The Doors and The Ramones. Even those who were photographers by trade were not the kind who waited for assignments they were self-taught anthropologists who wanted to document their time their place. And clearly these pictures tell their stories better than words ever could. La Camargo Charles Lecocq, Albert
