AQEEL AHMED

The Of Buried Treasure:

The Buried Treasure Akachi Adimora-Ezeigbo,1992 One of a series of readers for African students which aims to help them to develop an awareness and a love of language and consists of stories from all over Africa In this story Ola and her family are very poor following the Nigerian civil war Her father is dead and their money has disappeared The Buried Treasure AQEEL AHMED,2024-03-30 The Buried Treasure Tara learns that the real riches are in the beauty of nature after she finds an old treasure In Summary The Buried Treasure is a touching story about Tara a smart and interested young woman who became very interested in history when she found an old map hidden in her attic With the help of this interesting map with an X on it Tara goes on a crazy mission with her friends Leo and Sara to find hidden money Along their trip through the lush tapestry of nature s wonders including rushing rivers dense forests and tall mountains the story expertly blends the thrill of adventure with the deep understanding of life s greatest blessings Along with the tough physical challenges they face the group learns about the amazing variety and beauty of the natural world around them They learn how to find answers to nature s secrets and solve puzzles that test their bravery and intelligence They also learn how to work together to solve problems and solve problems With each step Tara Leo and Sara learn that the world is full of unique treasures like the quiet beauty of a hidden valley the history of a lost town and the magic of a secret garden The story The Buried Treasure does a great job of showing how close Tara and her friends are and how much they have in common After going through some tough times they learn that the most valuable things in life are not things we own but the relationships we make the beauty we appreciate and the amazing and educational experiences we share At the end of their trip they find a treasure chest that is empty except for seeds The seeds represent the chance for growth renewal and the cycle of life continuing The main lesson of the story is shown by this discovery we can become truly wealthy by appreciating and protecting the beauty of nature and the connections that give our lives meaning The Buried Treasure is mostly a celebration of the things that happen to us the people that keep us going and the natural world s power to amaze and humble us It reminds us that when we re looking for treasure the richest things are often the ones that feed our souls and connect us to each other and the land A Look at the Chapters Chapter 1 The Outdated Chart One sunny afternoon Tara was having fun in her attic when she found something very interesting and one of a kind An old torn map was found in a forgotten corner buried under a pile of books and toys This map wasn t like most it was well made had lots of small features and had an X on it Tara s eyes were bright with joy Her grandfather had told her stories about lost wealth and brave pirates Now she had what looked like a real treasure map The map looked old because it was yellowing and had frayed ends that made it look like a picture book Tara was curious about how the map got into her attic Was it an old game piece that had been lost or did an adventurous ancestor leave it there An exciting thought filled Tara s mind she might find something that no one else has She had visions of jars full of sparkling gems valuable coins or maybe even magical riches She felt daring when she thought about going on a treasure hunt To go on this adventure with her Tara knew she would need the help of her best friends Leo and Sara Because they loved adventures Tara couldn't wait to tell them what she had found She pictured the same happiness on their faces that she was feeling as she told them about the map Every person would bring something different to the prize hunt so they would work well together as a group Sara was smart and quick witted Leo was brave and strong and Tara was creative and smart They were perfect for a trip together because they got along so well While she looked at the map Tara started making plans for their route They looked into the woods behind her house for a long time because they thought that was where the X might be This time though things would be different This time they were going to find a prize buried deep Tara thought about what they would need a journal to write about their trip snacks to keep them going a flashlight in case they had to go into dark places and a compass to help them find their way During their treasure hunt she learned how important it is to be kind to animals and the earth Tara was afraid that the many animals and plants that lived in the woods would not have their homes disrupted That night Tara had a hard time falling asleep You could feel how excited she was about the upcoming journey She thought about every possible prize and the problems they would have to solve She couldn't wait to start because she knew there would be tasks and notes to follow After seeing the old map Tara became interested and amazed She knew that she and her friends would always remember this journey The next morning Tara woke up early and was full of desire There was a neat roll of the map in her bag Tara couldn't wait to see where the old map would take them on their treasure hunt which began today It wasn't just a treasure hunt it was about the thrill of the chase the fun of exploring with other people and the magic of finding new places Tara was ready for a trip that would be full of new experiences and shocks No one knows The things they would do together and the lessons they would learn along the way might have been more important than any money or diamonds Chapter 2 The trip started As the sun broke through the clouds giving the land a golden glow Tara was on her way to see her friends Leo and Sara She carefully put the old map into her backpack the night before along with everything else she would need for the trip It made her heart beat fast with excitement and expectation The day in question wasn't like any other it was the start of an amazing trip that only happens once in a lifetime Tara was so excited to see her friends that she could hardly hold it in She opened the old map with a flourish which made Leo and Sara's eyes widen in shock They sat down together and looked at the complicated patterns and symbols on the page rubbing their heads together She talked about how she found the map and why she thought it might have an enchanted prize hidden inside it waiting to be found Leo smiled as Sara clapped her hands with happiness Everyone was there The choice was agreed upon by everyone They were going to go on a treasure hunt together There was an air of excitement in the air as they set out on their trip Every step they took away from home and into the unknown seemed like a chance to learn something new They were very excited as they talked about what the gift could be Each idea was better than the last It could have been a long lost artifact with great power a pirate's chest full of gold doubloons or even a secret room full of old papers They had a lot of ideas in their heads They went to the edge of the woods because that's where the real fun would start. The forest stood tall above them. It was a huge beautiful area that held the key to their goal. Tara, Leo, and Sara took a moment to enjoy everything. This was going to test how well they got along and worked together. Even though they knew the trip would be hard, the hope of finding the money together made it all worth it. They promised to look out for each other no matter what problems they faced. As they walked through the woods as the map told them to, their settings changed. The sounds of the city were replaced by the rustling of leaves and the singing of birds in the distance. As light came through the canopy, it cast a variety of shapes on the forest floor. They were amazed at how beautiful the area was as they moved through the thicket. The journey and the beautiful nature they saw were just as important to the trip as the end goal. They followed the path on the map through winding paths and over babbling brooks. Each sign brought them closer to their goal. They came across puzzles and hints along the way which they worked together to solve. Every problem they solved made them stronger and their friendship stronger. The adventure was even more exciting than they thought it would be. There were lots of funny and happy times and they felt like they had accomplished a lot.
