Preface Art Encounters in the Nuclear Age Jessica Holtaway, 2025-11-18 Written by artists curators historians and cultural workers Art Encounters in the Nuclear Age Radiant Objects is a collection of essays that offers an idiosyncratic cross section of nuclear history foregrounding stories of objects and artworks This collection aims to expand discourse around nuclear power and bear witness to the strangeness of living in the nuclear age and to contribute to a culture of care for nuclear subjects Particularly the collection seeks to direct attention to the marginalised voices of those who have experienced nuclear traumas more directly The book can be read as a kind of inventory of objects of things close to hand which can allow us to sense the magnitude and complexity of issues arising from nuclear technologies Amidst prevailing eco anxiety these essays ask us to sit with these experiences to hold these objects and to come closer to understanding our nuclear heritage Topics include the legacies of nuclear bombs the nuclear archive and noise prints nuclear decommissioning the past and present of nuclear bunkers and art in Fukushima This text is suitable for researchers in the visual arts history philosophy and environmentalism Strategy in the Contemporary World John Baylis, James J. American literature by showcasing a cross section of recent research into previously un tapped areas of interest Each chapter attempts to re read classic American texts using new or unorthodox theoretical frameworks including such diverse topics as an Emersonian reading of Don DeLillo decoding Thomas Pynchon with eco criticism and understanding Paul Auster s New York Trilogy by exploring the graphic novel version of City of Glass Other authors explored in this way include Henry James Truman Capote Ralph Ellison Toni Morrison Joyce Carol Oates and F Scott Fitzgerald This type of approach widens the reader s knowledge of each well known text and encourages new critical evaluations of contemporary American literature The collection moves through six large topic areas from Naturalism and an idea of the Great American Novel at the end of the nineteenth century through politics sexuality language and nature to a contemporary engagement with postmodernism Each essay deals with its own particular subject and author but the full impact of each on the notion of the American novel as a phenomenon can only be understood when read in conjunction with the others Of interest to both undergraduate and postgraduate students Reading America would be a valuable asset to any American Studies or American Literature degree course and a useful companion to American History or Politics courses The volume will also attract strong interest from established academics especially those researching the fields of literature critical theory cultural history and politics
