STANDARD FORTRAN PROGRAMMING A STRUCTURED STYLE ,1988   FORTRAN 77 Gordon Bitter Davis,Thomas Russell Hoffmann,1983   Programming for Software Sharing D.T. Muxworthy,2012-12-06 Most computer users are familiar with the problems of sharing software with others and the transfer of programs from one computing environment to another Software represents an ever increasing proportion of the cost of computing and these costs tend to nullify all the economic advantages flowing from the wider availability of cheap hardware Years ago it was hoped that the widespread use of high level programming languages would help in alleviating the problems of software production by increasing productivity and by making it simpler for users with similar problems to be able to use the same programs possibly on different types of machines It is a common experience that in practice this simple optimism has proved to be unfounded It was these considerations which led us in 1979 to organize a two week course on Programming for Software Sharing at the European Community Joint Research Centre Ispra Establishment Italy forming part of the regular series of Ispra Courses With prominent invited lecturers local contributions and through discussion sessions we examined with an audience from many countries the problems involved in the sharing and transfer of software as well as suggesting ways of overcoming them In our local environment we are faced daily with three problems both from engagements in software exchange in the scientific technical field on a Europe wide or world wide basis and from work with programming techniques and contributions to the international standardization process   Computing Newsletter for Schools of Business ,1980

Cable,R Conley (Jr),AIR FORCE WEAPONS LAB KIRTLAND AFB NM.,1986 An improved approach to programming has been developed in the last decade which produces reliable efficient computer programs using fewer labor hours and far fewer maintenance hours than other coding approaches This approach uses a disciplined style and is usually referred to as structured programming This standard applies the concepts of structured programming to FORTRAN 77 and contains procedures which result in better more reliable computer programs It is based on many actual experiences careful research and documented studies This standard classifies coding practices into five categories mandatory recommended permitted discouraged and forbidden The objectives of this standard in directing the use of disciplined programming practices are 1 To apply an architectural and syntactical method to the FORTRAN 77 language that greatly reduces the probability of errors 2 To produce code that is modified easily rapidly and reliably by applying the principles of modular structured and machine interchangeable FORTRAN 77 3 To improve code clarity simplicity robustness and reliability 4 To prohibit convoluted logic and 5 to produce well documented code Mathematics and Computer Education ,1982 Advanced Structured COBOL Lister Wayne Horn,Gary M.
