The Sheltering Sky:

The Sheltering Sky Paul Bowles, 2019-02-28 The Sheltering Sky is a book about people on the edge of an alien space somewhere where curiously they are never alone Michael Hoffman Port and Kit Moresbury a sophisticated American couple are finding it more than a little difficult to live with each other Endeavouring to escape this predicament they set off for North Africa intending to travel through Algeria uncertain of exactly where they are heading but determined to leave the modern world behind The results of this casually taken decision are both tragic and compelling The Sheltering Sky Paul Bowles, 2000 The Sheltering Sky is a book about people on the edge of an alien space somewhere where curiously they are never alone Michael Hoffman Port and Kit Moresbury a sophisticated American couple are finding it more than a little difficult to live with each other Endeavouring to escape this predicament they set off for North Africa intending to travel through Algeria uncertain of exactly where they are heading but determined to leave the modern world behind The results of this casually taken decision are horrible Sheltering Sky Paul Bowles, 2014-09-09 A beautiful 65th anniversary paperback edition of the landmark literary work by acclaimed author Paul Bowles In this classic work of psychological terror Paul Bowles examines the ways in which Americans apprehend an alien culture and the ways in which their incomprehension destroys them The story of three American travelers adrift in the cities and deserts of North Africa after World War II The Sheltering Sky is at once merciless and heartbreaking in its compassion It etches the limits of human reason and intelligence perhaps even the limits of human life when they touch the unfathomable emptiness and impassive cruelty of the desert

The Sheltering Sky Livio Negri, 1990 Budgets and Markets Terry Iltott, 1996 Budgets and Markets highlights the decisions involved in budgeting and marketing European films It looks at the origin development production distribution financing and profit of thirteen European films including such critical and popular successes as Tacones Lejones High Heels by Pedro Almodovar Oci Ciornie Dark Eyes by Nikita Mikhalkov Peter's Friends by Kenneth Branagh and La Discrete by Christian Vincent Detailed financial data is reinforced by interviews with the producers of each film The core of the analysis is based on the question Was this film made at the right price for the right market The Sheltering Sky, 1990 Press kit includes opening announcement story sheets title sheet and production information A Novel Marketplace Evan Brier, 2012-02-25 As television transformed American culture in the 1950s critics feared the influence of this newly pervasive mass medium on the nation's literature While many studies have addressed the rhetorical response of artists and intellectuals to mid twentieth century mass culture the relationship between the emergence of this culture and the production of novels has gone largely unexamined In A Novel Marketplace Evan Brier illuminates the complex ties between postwar mass culture and the making marketing and reception of American fiction Between 1948 when television began its ascendancy and 1959 when Random House became a publicly owned corporation the way American novels were produced and distributed changed considerably Analyzing a range of mid century novels including Paul Bowles's The Sheltering Sky

Ray Bradbury's Fahrenheit 451, Sloan Wilson's The Man in the Gray Flannel Suit and Grace Metalious's Peyton Place Brier reveals the specific strategies used to carve out cultural and economic space for the American novel just as it seemed most under threat. During this anxious historical moment, the book business underwent an improbable expansion by capitalizing on an economic boom and a rising population of educated consumers and by forming institutional alliances with educators and cold warriors to promote reading as both a cultural and political good. A Novel Marketplace tells how the book trade and the novelists themselves successfully positioned their works as embattled holdouts against an oppressive mass culture even as publishers formed partnerships with mass culture institutions that foreshadowed the multimedia mergers to come in the 1960s. As a foil for and a partner to literary institutions, mass media corporations assisted in fostering the novel's development as both culture and commodity. Writing Tangier in the Postcolonial Transition Michael K.

Walonen, 2016-02-17. In his study of the Tangier expatriate community, Michael K. Walonen analyzes the representations of French and Spanish Colonial North Africa by Paul Bowles, Jane Bowles, William Burroughs, Brion Gysin, and Alfred Chester during the end of the colonial era and the earliest days of post-independence. The conceptualizations of space in these authors' descriptions of Tangier, Walonen shows, share common components: an attention to the transformative potential of the conflict sweeping the region; a record of the power relations that divided space along lines of gender and ethnicity, including the spatial impact of the widespread sexual commerce between Westerners and natives; a vision of the Maghreb as a land that can be dominated or imposed on as a kind of frontier space; an expression of anxieties about the specters of Cold War antagonisms; and an embrace of the underlying logic of the market to the culture of the Maghreb. Counterbalancing the depictions of Tangier by Westerners who sought to reconcile their nostalgia for the colonial order with their support of native demands for independent governance is Walonen's extended analysis of the contrasting sense of place found in the writings of native Moroccan authors such as Mohammed Choukri, Tahar Ben Jelloun, and Anouar Majid. In its focus on Tangier and the larger Maghreb as a lived environment situated at a particular spatial and temporal crossroads, Walonen's study makes an important contribution to the fields of urban, transatlantic, and postcolonial studies. The Sacred Body David Jasper, 2009.

Continuing the work begun in The Sacred Desert, David Jasper here turns his attention to the body, seeking a profound understanding of what it means to be in the flesh. A deeply autobiographical journey through disparate written texts in literature, philosophy, theology, and religion, art, and cinema, The Sacred Body rigorously and artfully pursues the body of the Christian tradition of the Word made flesh: a body torn and crucified, resurrected and divinized, embracing both deep suffering and profound joy. Engaging ascetic traditions that began among fourth-century desert monastics as well as George Herbert, Simone Weil, Meister Eckhart, James Joyce, and others, David Jasper once again provides a bold, learned, and original theological exploration. The Nation, 1950.
