The Rhythm of Modernization: How Values Change over Time Raúl Tormos,2019-11-04 In The Rhythm of Modernization Raúl Tormos analyses the pace at which belief systems change across the developed world during the modernization process It is often assumed that value change follows the slow rhythm of generational replacement This book however reports trends that contradict this assumption in the field of values Challenging Inglehart s modernization theory the transition from traditional to modern values happens much quicker than predicted Many baby boomers who were church going morally conservative materialists when they were young become unchurched and morally tolerant postmaterialists in their later years Using surveys from multiple countries over many years and applying cutting edge statistical techniques this book shows how citizens quickly adapt their belief systems to new circumstances throughout their lives

Value Contrasts and Consensus in Present-Day Europe ,2013-11-28 People s fundamental values can be conceived of as conceptions of what is desirable They influence their selection from available modes means and ends of action Because of the societal importance of values they deserve scholarly attention This volume inquires into the values present day Europeans cherish by empirically analyzing the data of 2008 2010 wave of the European Values Study and explaining the consensus and contrasts in value orientations found The contributors to this volume try to capture the diversities and similarities in value orientations between contemporary European countries in a range of life spheres by unravelling context and composition effects They are in search of evidence that either country level factors such as institutional arrangements or the composition of the populations of countries in terms of gender age socio economic status religion etcetera have the greatest impact By doing so they paint the moral landscapes of Europe today

Localizing Modernity Jeremy Gould,1997

The Rebirth of Anthropological Theory Stanley R. Barrett,1992-12-15 Innovative and often controversial Barrett s study ranges over the entire scope of anthropological theory It provides a fresh interpretation of the history of theory and mounts an alternative perspective built around dialectics that is eminently suitable to post colonial anthropology He argues that anthropological theory has failed to be cumulative It has been characterized by oscillation and repetition theoretical orientations have appeared and disappeared only to be discovered once again Addressing numerous conceptual contradictions which have never been resolved he introduces novel concepts such as salvage theory and backward theory and argues that in many respects anthropological theory resembles the structuralists interpretation of myth Social life he asserts is inherently contradictory although concealed by numerous mechanisms most of which reinforce the status quo Attacking the illusion of simplicity which has dominated positivistic approaches and the out dated identification of anthropology with non Western primitive and tribal societies Barrett contends that power and privilege everywhere should be the basic concerns of anthropological inquiry
