World Development Report 1990:

Human Development Report 1990 United Nations Development Programme, 1990 First in a series of annual reports this volume is about people and about how development enlarges their choices access to income long life knowledge political freedom personal security community participation and guaranteed human rights It measures human development not by the yardstick of income alone but by the human development index reflecting life expectancy literacy and command over resources to enjoy a decent standard of living The report analyzes the record of human development for the last three decades and the experience of 14 countries in managing economic growth and human development The volume concludes with human development indicators for more than 130 countries both developing and developed ISBN 0 19 306481 X pbk 15 95

Population and Development Robert Cassen, 1994-01-01 This volume presents the latest thinking concerning the effect of population growth on economic development and other areas of global concern The authors address the complex issues that currently face both developed and developing country governments in all areas of population growth exploring impacts within their country and internationally

Human Development Report 1992 United Nations Development Programme, 1992 Since its headline making debut the Human Development Report has become an essential resource for development specialists economists and political scientists around the world The 1992 Report not only updates the findings of the earlier volumes but also examines the international dimensions of human development showing how global economic growth and the expansion of the world economy have filtered down to poor economies and poor people in developing countries In addition it examines tcrps between human development and international markets for products capital and labor addresses issues of global governance and presents updated human development indicators for more than 160 countries

Mega-city Growth and the Future Roland J. Fuchs, 1994 This book examines a range of issues related to the mega city phenomenon Part one deals with the growth of mega cities and explores demographic issues labour force change in the big cities of Asia the effect of macroeconomic forces on the world city system and the relations between technology and the city In part two the discussion focuses on the economic and social consequences of mega city growth Part three looks at the crucial issue of the management of mega cities taking up such issues as infrastructure financing land and shelter needs transportation and environmental management The final chapter examines priority urban management issues in developing countries and derives a research agenda for the 1990s Adapt du r sum de l diteur

Human Development Report 1994 United Nations Development Programme, 1994 Expounds a new concept of human security one that focuses on the security of people in their homes in their jobs in their communities and in their environment

Poverty and Development S. M. Ravi Kanbur, 1990

World Development Report, 1991 This report synthesizes and interprets the lessons of more than forty years of development experience Together with last year's report on poverty and next year's on the environment it seeks to provide a comprehensive overview of the development agenda The 1990s began with dramatic changes as many countries in Eastern

Europe and elsewhere initiated ambitious reforms of their economic and political systems Against the backdrop of these transitions this report links the historical debates that counseled policymakers in their past decisions the lessons of experience and the evolving thought on how best to proceed One of the most valuable lessons relates to the interaction between the state and the market in fostering development It describes a market friendly approach in which governments allow markets to function well and in which governments concentrate their interventions on areas in which markets prove inadequate The report looks at four main aspects of the relationship between governments and markets a investing in people b the climate for enterprises to flourish c the integration of countries with the global economy and d a stable macroeconomic foundation for sustained progress The report stresses that above all the future of developing countries is in their own hands Domestic policies and institutions hold the key to successful development World Development Report 1990 World Bank,1990 World Development Report 2006 World Bank,World Bank Group,2005-09 Inequality of opportunity both within and among nations sustains extreme deprivation results in wasted human potential and often weakens prospects for overall prosperity and economic growth concludes the 2006 World Development Report To correct this situation and reduce poverty more effectively Equity and Development recommends ensuring more equitable access by the poor to health care education jobs capital and secure land rights among others It also calls for greater equality of access to political freedoms and political power breaking down stereotyping and discrimination and improving access by the poor to justice systems and infrastructure To level the playing field among countries and thereby reduce global inequities that hurt the poor in developing countries the report calls for removal of trade barriers in rich countries flexibility to allow greater in migration of lower skilled people from developing countries and increased and more effective development assistance Human Development Report ,1999

World Development Report 1990 World Bank,1990 Examines the economic policies and conditions of Third World nations and discusses the causes and extent of world poverty National Human Development Report ,1996 Poverty Monitoring: An International Concern Rolph Hoeven,Richard Anker,1993-11-26 This volume assembles the major papers discussed at an international workshop on poverty monitoring to evaluate poverty indicators and poverty monitoring systems It aims to focus more attention on poverty issues and improve policies for alleviating poverty International Monetary and Financial Issues for the 1990s ,1996 Proceedings of the World Bank Annual Conference on Development Economics ,1991 The Economics of Biodiversity Conservation in Sub-Saharan Africa Charles Perrings,2000 This authoritative book presents the results of important new research into the economics of biodiversity conservation in sub Saharan Africa The contributors offer case studies of the economic causes of biodiversity loss in a range of ecosystem types wetlands montane forests tropical moist forests semi arid savannas and lakes and discuss the policy options for biodiversity conservation in each case They also provide an in depth analysis of the environmental consequences of policy reform at the macro and micro levels and offer practical recommendations for the implementation of the Convention on Biological Diversity

The Economics of Biodiversity Conservation in Sub Saharan Africa will prove invaluable to scholars and policymakers working within the areas of environmental economics environmental science and sustainable development Trends in the World Economy Roy W. Bahl,1992 Industrial Economist ,1990 What Works for the Poorest? David Lawson,2010 This book is the first attempt to examine what works for the poorest and analyses innovative ultra poor programmes from around the world and explores the lessons that emerge from this important body of knowledge It should be read by staff of donor agencies and NGOs students of development studies who are concerned about chronic poverty Reaching Small Borrowers in Developing Countries Nimal Fernando,1991
