Design and Feminism Joan Rothschild, Alethea Cheng, 1999 The distinction between the spaces considered public and private or work and home is becoming more blurred Our streets parks dwellings and tools are designed to a one size fits all standard and the responses of the design community to meet diverse needs have been mixed at best Design and Feminism offers feminist critiques of these inadequate design standards and suggest ideas projects and programs for change

Resources in Education, 1989 Re-visioning Science Education from Feminist Perspectives Kathryn Scantlebury, 2010 Further these women work in educational institutions that have higher status and prestige than their sisters in elementary middle or high schools Second female professors are bearded mothers Women who have engaged in science education value rationality and logic and assume authority as participants in academe The use of logic the acceptance of authority and the assumption of power are masculine gender stereotyped characteristics This situation places women in a paradox because others including peers and students expect them to display stereotypic female gender dispositions such as mothering nurturing sacrificing their needs for others and a commitment to the institution

Hope Morritt,1997 This book highlights the diversity of professional women in education who use computer based technologies They represent differences in socioeconomic status ethnicity and age They were selected for this study because they use computer based technologies in their daily work The conceptual framework underlying this research is feminist standpoint theory Standpoint theory in this study stems from the work of Harding 1991 who has grounded standpoint theory in eight claims These claims were connected to clusters that were organized into segments that could be contrasted compared and analyzed Themes were developed and photographs were used to operationalize the cluster categories Methodology used for this study included three structured interviews The first interview elicited background information Interview two used the photographs as an auto driving technique to stimulate discussion The third interview asked the respondents to validate their narratives and to describe their reactions to the feminist perspective Results of this study demonstrate the importance of valuing women s lives as starting points for research and as generators of evidence for or against knowledge claims specifically as their lives relate to computer based technologies Women need to learn to value and network with other women in the use of technology These respondents early learning experiences reflect the cultural agenda and an absence of hands on science activities They also encounter gender oppression in many forms in their daily life experiences Although they all had opportunities to engage in computer learning at different stages of their life the time to learn and the opportunities to access computers were constraints that prevented further advancement These women educators predict positive futures for girls who are computer literate but warn of the potential of the increasing power of technology to divide women in our society into the haves and the have nots Implications and practical applications from web navy seal adam brown personally went out of his way to hand out shoes and socks to afghan kids in need adam s last goodbye was chilling my first son was born november 30th 2001 while i was away hunting bad men in afghanistan with seal team three so i can relate as most military guys to how hard it is to say goodbyes to the little ones
